RELAY: Remote Electronic Labs at Yale

Yale Pathology Labs understand the growing emphasis in the healthcare industry on information technology solutions that improve patient care through enhanced efficiency, decreased errors, and effective management of clinicians' time. With this in mind, Yale Pathology Labs has developed a web-based software solution, called RELAY, to support our clients.

RELAY's features include:

- Easy, secure access from any computer equipped with an internet connection
- Access to results, viewable via the internet from your office or home
- Personalized requisition forms with optional bar code labels to track specimens
- Increased efficiency in service — all data necessary for accurate diagnosis are included on the requisition form
- We can also interface with your current EMR provider

If you would like more information about RELAY or to schedule an in-office demonstration, please contact our service team at 877-YALE LAB (877-925-3522) and ask for our RELAY Coordinator.

by email at yalepath@yale.edu, or contacted via our website: yalepathologylabs.org.

Patient Final Reports

Patient final reports are delivered to your practice by our courier, Medifleet, where available. Patient reports are also available for physicians to access immediately via our secure web-based software solution, RELAY (<https://secure.yalepath.org>). For information about obtaining this service or if you have a question about a report, please contact our service team at 877-YALE LAB (877-925-3522).
